THE COLLEGE OF CARDINALS.

Letters from Rome, just received in Paris, anprise us that in a secret consistory, held on the 7th | says: nstrut, the Holy Father completed the Sacred College by the creation of eight new cardinals, one of whom is a Frenah prelate, the Arch-bishop of Tours. These letters contain some interesting information relative to the Roman Cardinalate. On the 1st of January last the number of vacancies in the corps of cardinals was seven. The recent death of Cardinal Diepenbrock left an eighth. By virtue of the promotions of the 7th, all these vacancies are filled. A full Sacred College has not been witnessed before for a great many years. The very advanced age of some of the actual cardinals make it probable that there will soon be other vacancies; but these, when they occur, will not give rise to speedy nominations, for custom requires that the college should not be full.

There should be a few cardinals' hats always held in reserve, to be disposed of as argent circumstances may require. According to the pontifical constitution, the Sacred College is composed of seventy cardinals, divided unequally between the three or-ders, thus: six of the order of bishops, fifty of the order of priests, and fourteen of the order of deacons. Of the seventy cardinals now living, there are six upwards of eighty years of age, thirteen between seventy and eighty, nineteen between sixty and seventy, twenty-four between fifty and sixty. and eight between forty and fifty. The youngest is Cardinal Andrea, born in 1812; the oldest Cardinal Oppizoni, who is eighty-four years old, who has worn the hat fifty years.

to 1823; three from that of Leo XII, who succeeded Pins VII; thirty-five received their hats from Gregory XVI, who reigned from 1831 to 1846, and | pursuing a sagacious and patriotic policy in its apthirty from the reigning Pope, Pins IX.

Fifty-four of the actual cardinals are Italians;sixteen are foreigners. Of the fifty-four Italians, thirty-three are Romans by birth or adoption, seven are Piedmontese, seven Neapolitan, two Tuscan, and five belong to Lombardo-Venetian kingdom. Of the sixteen foreign cardinals, six are of France, three of Austria, two of Spain, two or Portugal, one of Belgium, one of England, and one of Prossia. Twenty-seven cardinals (all Italians) reside in the city of Rome, and participate under the Pope in the spiritual government of the Roman Catholic church and in the temporal government of the Pontifical States.—Cor. National Intelligencer.

INTERESTING CASE TO SURGEONS.

There are interesting cases both in law and surgery. How much more, when law and surgery combine, as recently in a case in Strafford county, N. H. The plaintiff, who lives in Strafford, brought an action against the defendant, a physician and surgeon, at Barnstead, laying damages at $2,000, for mal practice, in treating plaintiff's right ancle, the bones of which were badly dislocated and fractured by his being thrown from his wagon on the first day of September, 1850.

The injured foot is now elevated at the heel about four inches, and quite stiff, and plaintiff alleged that by skillful treatment his foot should have been left. in a position much nearer at right angles to the leg -and that the surgeon did not take proper care to elevate the ball of the foot while the healing process was going ou. The defendant contended that the foot was kept as near its natural position as the severe nature of the injury and the inflammation and general sickness of the patient would allow. Many surgeons were introduced as witnesses from this vicinity, besides Drs. Parkman and Bigelow, of Boston; Perry, of Exeter, and others of eminence from abroad. The case was given to the Jury on Saturday noon, who in a very short time returned a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing the damages at

THE LATE RAILBOAD ACCIDENT.—The Cumberland Journal of Friday says that all the sufferers by the late deplorable railroad accident are rapidly recovering, and will soon leave for their various places of destination. Dr. Cadwallader is still at Chest river. and doing well; Mr. Gardiner, one of the brakesmen, who was severely injured, is at the same place. Miss Isaacs, one of the killed, was of Hebrew descent, and was traveling under the care of Dr. Cadwallader, who is ignorant of her death; she was on her way to Philadelphia, to visit her friends, Louis Deline, another of the killed, was a mative of France, on his way from California, and had with him 25,000 francs, an order for a small amount of sterling exchange on the Rothschilds, of London. together with an assignment of one-half of a claim on the United States Government, growing out of the seizure of a vessel called the New Boe.

Cornelius Sallies, from Holly Springs, Mississip pi, had on his person a large amount of South Carolina money and other valuables, which are in the safe keeping of the railroad company. Flavel S. Wooton, another of the killed, was a native of Rockville, Montgomery county, Md., and had settled at Green Bay, Wisconsin, in the practice of the law. He was on his return to visit his friends for the first time since leaving his native State. His body has been forwarded to his friends in Montgomery The Journal says the number of passengers on the railroad has suffered no diminution since the aecident. The cars now pass through instead of over the Pettibone Tunnel, and consequently make INCREDIBLE BUT TRUE. On Friday last, an old gentleman who has traveled the streets of this city for half a century, fell senseless in a fit on the steps of the City Hall. It happened in mid-day. "WHAT WILL MRS. GRUNDY SAY NOW ?"

The Banner, the other day, copied editorially a paragraph from the New York Herald to the effect that eight Southern whigs voted against Mr. Dix's nomination. It appears that our neighbor has been a little too fast, and has put the shoe upon the wrong foot. We commend to him the following paragraph from his late co-laborer in the Presidential canvass, and ask him to make the amende honorable by copying it. The New York Tribune

AMABILITY OF THE WHIGS.-We observe by the classification of The Evening Pest of the Senators who voted against Gen Dix's confirmation, that that gentleman owes his place to the Whigs. It appears that eight distinguished Democrats voted against Gen. Dix, on the ground that he was not sound on the Slavery question. The Whigs, if they had been at all inclined to embarrass either the Administration or the Democratic party, by uniting with the insurgent eight could have prevented Mr. Dix's confirmation. We are rejoiced that they allowed no such petty motives to sway them, but stood fast by sound doctrine.

Let Gen. Pierce and the Democrats be thankful to the Whigs. They could hardly do without the conservative and patriotic councils and votes of this badly beaten party.

MR. DIX.

The Banner tries very hard to make capital out. of Mr Dix's appointment to an inferior office in New York. Our neighbor objects to him because he is a free soiler. Now, if the Banner will only place its own party leaders at the North upon as good a platform as Mr. Dix now stands, we will acquit them of the heavy charges to which they are now obnoxious, and confess that they are pretty good national men. Dix are heartily with the present platform, and no doubt is entertained, in any quarter, of his fidelity to the principles of the Adminstration. Had there been, he would neither have been appointed by the President, nor confirmed by the Senate. The Democratic Herald, in its last issue, also presented his name on behalf of the democrats of Maury. We have no doubt that the entire district will heartily respond to Col. Thomas' nomination. He is a very popular man, of fine abilities, and great private worth. If elected, he will make a competent and faithful representative. We hope the democrats of his district will do their whole duty for him in this contest.

INFORMATION WANTED.

Whig editors, as a general thing, are a precious knowing set. They talk learnedly about everything, and shed a flood of light upon almost every subject they design to handle. Occasionally, however, they are ignorant. For instance, a little information appears to be wanted at the New York Tribune office. At least we infer so from the following paragraph which we clip from the last number of the Tribune :

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION

PRELIMINARY MEETINGS. MACON COUNTY.

According to previous appointment a portion of the democracy of Macon county, assembled at the court-house in Lafavette, on the 9th April, 1858.

Whereupon, Dr Reuben Roark was called to the chair, and John Satterfield, Esq., appointed secretary, after which Daniel D Claiborne, Esq., offered the following preamble and resolutions, and moved their adoption, which was unanimously agreed to by the meeting:

WHUREAS, in the opinion of the democracy of Macon county, the time has arrived for action on our part, in co-operation with the democracy of Tennessee, in order to redeem our beloved State from the false position she now occupies, "side by side" and "cheek by jowl" with Vermont and Massachusetts abroad, and from federal whig misrule at home. Resolved, That the truly patriotic sentiments contained in the Inaugural address of President Pierce, give assurance to the Nation, that its honor will be maintained abroad, and our citizens rights protected on every land and every sea that has ever beheld, or shall hereafter witness the presence of the American Eagle surrounded by our stars and stripes. Resolved, That the democracy of the State can and will conquerunder the lead of either of the distinguished democrats spoken of as likely to be nominated as the democratic candidate for Governor, at the approaching State Convention, to be held at Nashville, on the 27th instant, and that the democracy of Macon county, doem it advisable to express no preference as between the talented democrats spoken of, but will give the nominee of said convention a hearty sup-

Resolved. That our delegates to the State Convention, be requested to consult with the delegates from the counties mposing this Congressional, Senatorial and Representative district, in regard to the propriety of holding Conventions for nominating candidates for Congress, Senator and Representative, with full power to appoint the time and place for holding the same. At a meeting of the democracy of Sumner county, on the 4th inst., held at the Court house in Gallatin, for the pur pose of appointing delegates to the State Convention to be held at Nashville on the 27th inst., to nominate a candidate for Governor. R. M. Boyens was called to the chair, and A. A. Lewis appointed secretary. The object of the meeting having been explained by the chairman, W. H. Solomons introduced the following preamble and resolutions, which, after a spirited debate were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, the Democratic State Convention meets at Nashville on the 27th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor, and we have noticed with pride that our fellow citizen, Col. J. C. Gullo, has been favorably spoken of in connection with that office by the different democratic journals of the State, and several county meetings have recommended him as a suitable standard bearer in the coming coatest. In view of the long and faithful service of Col. Guild to the democratic cause, and his undoubted qualifications, we think he merits the nomination .-

Resolved, That the chairman of this meeting appoint two democrats from each civil district in this county to represent us in said convention.

Resolved, That we recognize in Col. Jo. C. Guild the able and tried advocate of Democratic principles, and that energy of character necessary to insure success should be receive

In addition to the above, W. B. Bate introduced the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted: Resolved, That we as democrats properly appreciating the military services of Gov. Trousdale, and his life-time exertions for the furtherance of democratic principles, do express the hope that our President in selecting representatives of our government abroad, will not be unmindful of the just claims of Gov. Trousdale, his late "comrade in arms," and who, declining to annoy the executive as an office-seeker, has preferred the modest course of remaining at home and 'receive' emolument if he is thought by the President to be deserving.

Resolved, That we, as personal and political friends of Gov. Trousdale, tender our thanks to Hon. I. G. Harris and such other democrats as coincided with him, for an unsolicited effort to place the name of Gov. Tronsdale properly before President Pierce as one deserving at his hands, an office both honorable and profitable.

On motion, it was agreed that the chairman appoint delegates in accordance with the first resolution, whereupon the following were respectfully submitted:

Michael Duffy, Wm Harvey, R A Bennett, Wm Haw, David Goodall, John F Sanderson, Dr James Dyer, Charles Clendening, Ed L Payne, Dan Donaldson, Joseph Jones, Franklin Pierce, Geo W Winchester, John J Wherry, A R Wyne, Dan Montgomery, R A Hall, Geo W Terry, James Charlton, Anderson Wicks, W B Bate, Benj Roney, W H Solomon, David Payne, Geo W Allen, S Herman, A A Lewis, Jacob Beson, Thomas Barry, Alfred Sarver, J R A Tompkins, O P Butler, M V B Haile, Henry Sarver, Wm M Blackmore, James Flemming, B F Allen, Oscar Staley, Jno W Moss, Jesse Meadow, John W Head, Joseph Carter, R M Boyers, Geo Wray, John H Malone, Richmond Tyree, John

WEEKEY REVIEW OF THE MARKET. NASHVILLE, April 14. RIVER AND WEATHER.—The river commenced falling on Sunday last, and there is now eight feet on Harpeth Shoals. The weather is, and has been nearly all the week, warm, dry and windy. Corrox.-The market during the week has been without any material change. The quotations which we gave with our last Weekly Review have generally prevailed, though in some instances a higher figure has been paid for an unusualaly fine article. Sales of the week have been limited to about 600 bales, owing to the small quantity offering, the planters not being particularly anxious to sell, and having engagements at home just now, which prevents them from coming to market. We submit our quotations of last
